Birkhill Fireclay Mine

Woodland Meadow Walk

The Walk takes you through the quiet woodland and meadow beside the Avon Gorge and Birkhill Station, part of the Bo'ness & Kinneil Railway. Along the Walk you will pass the grounds of the former Birkhill Fireclay Mine processing plant since demolished and views of the Gorge and mine haulage system.

The Walk starts from Birkhill Station Platform:

1. Follow the signs to the Woodland. This path takes you towards the grounds of the former mine buildings where the fireclay was processed ready for shipment. You will pass a picnic area and a number of information boards.
2. Follow the path as it heads round to your right and you will arrive at the top of the steps that the workers used to reach the old mine workings.
3. The route continues left in a southerly direction along the gorge ridge. Continue along this path until you reach a picnic table.
4. Take the path to your right and follow the loop around the meadow area. There are several places to rest and enjoy the peace & quiet and views of the gorge along this relatively flat route

Path Information:

Distance 0.6miles (1Km)

The route follows a surfaced path and is generally flat with some gentle slopes suitable for wheelchairs & buggies and takes around 20 minutes to complete. There are several picnic tables along the route

5. When you return to the picnic tables, turn right and retrace the first part of the route back towards the mine grounds and Birkhill Station
